

Plymouth Elementary School

WEEK IN REVIEW

(Just a few highlights)

March 22- 26

PES's answer to "What did you do in school today?"

Enjoy the last of the students' book reviews:

We Love Books!

Emily: (4)

Pony Pals: Stolen Ponies by: Jeanne Betancourt

This book is an exciting book. The genre is a mystery. The story is about three girls and two boys. The girls have a club and the boys have a club. Someone has been making campfires illegally. The girls want to find and stop whoever it is. My favorite part is when the girls make their fort. I like this book because it is about ponies. If you like ponies and a mystery, I recommend this book to you. If you can find this book, read it right away. On a one to ten scale, I give this book a 90,000,000.

Jillian (4)

The Hidden Stairs and the magic Carpet by: Tony Abbott

Eric and his friends were playing in his basement. They found a magic staircase to a new world. They meet princess Keeah and the angry Ninns. Is there a way to get out of this world? I thought this book was great because it is an adventure book with a little bit of magic. I would recommend this book to third and fourth graders.

Andrew: (4)

Mr. Popper's Penguins by: Richard Florence Atwater

Admiral Drake sends Mr. Popper a Penguin. He ends up with twelve penguins in his family. The penguins starred in a show. What will happen to Mr. Popper, his family and his penguins? I thought this book was okay because I like penguins and other animals in the South Pole.

Austin: (4)

Soldier's Heart by: Gary Paulsen

Charlie wants to go fight in the Civil War. He was fifteen years old. He went to war and then he sees things that he would not want to ever see again. I thought this book was great because there were a lot of people who lost their lives in the Civil War, and this book tells it all.

REMINDERS

- No school on Friday April 2-
- The fifth and sixth graders have created some amazing projects in connection to their immigration study - we are planning a presentation of them either at the end of March or the beginning of April. Come check them out!- Miss Sara
- It's time to bring your sleds home- please have someone pick them up at school as soon as you can- thank you!

